STEINWAY THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

HENRY STEINWAY
making his first piano

The maintenance of uniform perfection is the greatest achievement of the Steinway art. In addition to the concert grand there is the upright, the miniature grand, baby grand, parlor grand and other styles and sizes. Each of these presents a separate problem in piano manufacture. Each calls for a separate adjustment of creative effort and structural requirements. And, yet in every Steinway, no matter what the style or size, regardless of mechanical limitations, reposes the inimitable evidence of Steinway manufacture—the quality, which as Ernest Hutcheson has said, "converts a machine into a soul."

Any new Steinway piano may be purchased with a cash deposit of 10%, with the balance extended over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

Prices: $875 and up

CLERK OF THE ACADEMY

R. George Smith

The National Academy of Design maintains free schools to further the arts of design.

The Schools afford exceptional opportunities for thorough academic training to those intending to become professional painters, sculptors, or illustrators.

From the corps of distinguished artists who are instructors at the Academy each student may select his own instructor. None but those intending to become professional artists are admitted. The School for Men and the School for Women are separate.

The School Year will be composed of two Terms: First Term: September 22 to December 24, 1924, inclusive. Second Term: January 5 to April 18, 1925, inclusive, Sundays and holidays excepted, from 9 a.m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p.m. Evening classes from 7 to 10. Over one thousand dollars awarded annually in Scholarships and Prizes.

Circulars on application.

EXTRACT FROM THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF HENRY W. RANGER

"The income of the Estate of Henry W. Ranger to be spent by the Council of the National Academy of Design in purchasing paintings produced by American artists, at least two-thirds of such income to be spent in the purchase of works by artists who are forty-five years of age or over, it remaining optional with the Council to spend the remaining one-third or any part thereof in the purchase of works by younger artists.

"All pictures so purchased are to be given by the Council to Art institutions in America, or to any library or other institutions in America maintaining a gallery open to the public, all such gifts to be upon the express condition that the National Gallery at Washington, administered by the Smithsonian Institution, shall have the option and right, without cost, to take, reclaim and own any picture for their collection, provided they exercise such option and right at any time during the five-year period beginning ten years after the artist's death and ending fifteen years after his death, and, if such option and right is not exercised during such period, the picture shall remain and be the property of the institution to which it was first given.

"The words 'America' and 'American' as used above shall be construed as equivalent to North America and North American respectively."

By Order of the Council.

Thirty paintings have been purchased by the Council of the National Academy of Design with the Ranger Fund and assigned to Art Museums throughout the country, from 1919 to March, 1923.

On April 7th, 1906, the National Academy of Design and the Society of American Artists were united

THE FOUNDERS

On the 8th of November, 1825, a number of young Artists and Students established the New York Drawing Association; and soon after, on the 19th of January, 1826, they resolved themselves into a new organization, to be known as the National Academy of the Arts of Design. They thereupon chose from their number fifteen artists, who were directed to choose fifteen others, the thirty thus selected to constitute the new society. Of this body of Founders of the National Academy of Design whose names are here recorded, the last survivor, Thomas C. Cummings, N.A., who was for many years the Treasurer, and at one time the Vice-President of the Academy, died September 25, 1894.

Over one hundred and seventy years ago, William Post laid the foundation of what is now known as the House of Devoe.

Right straight through those one hundred and seventy years, the quality of DEVOE Products has been recognized as the best.

The test of time, therefore, is our strongest testimonial for reliability. The name DEVOE on Artists' Materials is a trade mark of confidence.
